FOOD for KIDZ Planning Meeting Our parishes will once again be participating in the Food for Kidz mobile food packaging program during this upcoming Lent. This program provides meals for the most starving people around the world for just 15 cents a meal. We would like to get a bi-parish team together to help plan and promote this project. Please call or text Linda at 360-3802 if you can help out. A meeting is planned for Monday, January 27 at 7pm at Holy Trinity.

The mission of Food for Kidz is to bring awareness to hunger problems around the world by involving communities in the participation of packing nutritional meals that will be distributed to children in need. We also involve them in sustainability-building in order to facilitate lasting change. We feel it's important to help expand the children's experiences beyond what's happening locally to give them a more global perspective. In addition, we help educate other organizations and encourage their commitment toward achieving positive results in the fight against hunger.

Anyone experiencing the challenges of aging or illness of body or mind is welcome to receive the Sacrament of Anointing of the Sick. Following the Mass and Anointing, a dinner will be served in the basement, hosted by our religious ed students and volunteers. Please call Janice at 584-8323 to RSVP. Sponsor Couple Training will be offered Saturday, January 25, from 9am to 4pm at the Pastoral Center in St. Cloud. Please contact Fr. Roger if you are interested in serving in this important and rewarding ministry or would like more information. Then, to register, call Janet at 320-258-7616 or email jdusek@gw.stedio.org to register. Registration for couples (names, address, phone number, parish and email address) should be made at least one week before training. The parish will cover the cost of training (which includes Fully Engaged supplies).

Volunteers Needed! With our change in our Sunday morning mass schedule, there are now more families with children attending the Saturday 4:00pm mass at Holy Trinity. We would like to have a team of at least two persons discuss the Sunday readings with the younger children during the readings and homily. If you are interested in helping with this program or would like more information, please call Fr. Roger.

Proud Servants of God

“My servant” is an identification a lot of people will shy away from. A servant seeks to accomplish someone else’s goals, and the adjective “my” suggests belonging to another. Yet all of today’s readings describe individuals who are proud to be servants—servants of God. What makes this kind of servant something to which all of us can aspire? As a servant of God, Isaiah became “a light to the nations that [God’s] salvation may reach to the ends of the earth” (Isaiah 49:6). As a servant of God, Paul became “an apostle of Christ Jesus,” proclaiming the good news of God’s love “to the church of God that is in Corinth.” As a servant of God, John the Baptist prepared the way so that Jesus “might be made known to Israel” (John 1:31). These servants sought to accomplish God’s goals for the fulfillment of others. It is in such commitment to others that we ourselves are fulfilled. Ask any parent, lover, or good friend if this is not the case. We might not want to be the servant of another, but what a privilege it is to be called to be a servant of God, a light to others, to proclaim God’s love and make Jesus known. By our baptism, we have all been so called. We enlighten others by the way we live with integrity. The unselfishness of our lives proclaims the good news of Christ Jesus. Authentic Christian living makes him known to the world. That’s what it means to be a servant of God. —Sr. Dianne Bergant, CSA

For Reflection

- How does your life in the home, workplace, or community manifest the love of God for others?
- How do you personally benefit by serving others?

Pope Francis Quote of the Week

“What about you?” It is significant that these words of the elderly Pope [Leo XIII] were also addressed to a laywoman [Katharine Drexel]. We know that the future of the Church in a rapidly changing society will call, and even now calls, for a much more active engagement on the part of the laity. — MASS WITH BISHOPS, CLERGY, AND RELIGIOUS OF PENNSYLVANIA, SEPTEMBER 26, 2015

2nd Sunday in Ordinary Time

“Now the Lord has spoken who formed me as his servant from the womb...” (Isaiah 49:5)

God has given each of us different gifts. In order for God’s plan to work, you have to do what God is calling you to do, and I have to do what God is calling me to do. And guess what? God has given each of us a different plan! So, stop comparing yourself to others. Don’t let envy and jealousy enter your life. Be thankful for the gifts God has given you and generously share them with others. -archstl.org

Gospel Summary

John the Baptist knew Jesus as his cousin, but it is not clear until we read today’s Gospel that John recognized Jesus as the promised Messiah. John called Jesus the “Lamb of God.” We are familiar with the title for Jesus, “Lamb of God,” because we hear it in our Eucharistic prayers during mass. The Lamb of God comes to take away the sins of the world. And, indeed, Jesus died that we might be free of our sins. The lamb figured in much of Jewish tradition, especially as a symbol of sacrifice, but certainly we recognize the image of “shepherd” as one who leads the flock through darkness and difficult terrain. The message of John’s gospel is for us—the simple sheep—to follow Jesus, the shepherd.

Reflection for Families

As parents we certainly can understand the image of Jesus as “shepherd.” We are constantly leading the way for our children and serving them with endless love. When they are sick or hurt, we would gladly take their pain and suffering if we could. It is clearly through these feelings that we begin to understand just what Jesus has done for us. As parents, when we show our unending love for our children, they too get an inkling of what Jesus’ love is for them as well.

Bringing the Gospel into Your Family

Help children understand the roots of “Lamb of God” in our Catholic liturgy. As a family pray together the “Lamb of God” from the mass.

Discussion Starters

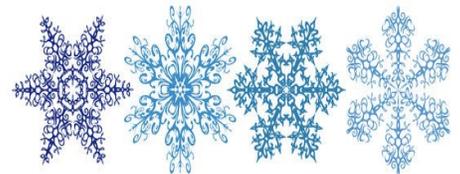

1. I know I witnessed the love of Jesus to my children when . . .
 2. I see the Spirit is alive in our family because . . .
- Like John, I didn’t recognize Jesus as the Messiah until . . . —rc1blectionary.com

Family Connection

The ministry of John the Baptist prepared for and pointed to the ministry of Jesus. In a similar way, our lives are to offer testimony to who we know Jesus to be for us and for the world. Jesus is the Lamb of God who takes away the sins of the world. How does the witness of our lives give testimony to the reconciling presence of Christ?

As a family, identify as many titles for Jesus as possible, such as Lamb of God, Son of God, Prince of Peace, and so on. Talk together about what these different titles mean and what they tell you about Jesus. Then read together today’s Gospel, John 1:29-34.

Consider how John the Baptist gives testimony to who Jesus is. Talk about what people might come to know about Jesus by observing your family life. Pray together that your family life will show others that Jesus is the Son of God, the lamb who takes away the sins of the world. Pray the Lord’s Prayer.—loyolapress.com

Pastors note: Since I have neuropathy in my fingers, I have to use a "Dragon" voice recognition program on my computer instead of typing. The Dragon usually has problems understanding unfamiliar words and names and mistakes happen. Here is what I was trying to say last weekend and unfortunately I forgot to proofread before printing:

As a recognition of their fine work and much appreciated service these past three years, all three incumbents were reelected to their positions, Becky Voyles and Brian Pyka to the pastoral Council and Eugene Epsky to the parish finance committee. Many thanks to the all the nominees who consented to be on the ballot. Your openness to serve your parish is much appreciated.

Dear Padre,

A religious community invited me to become a lay associate. What kind of commitment is needed?

When laypeople and ordained ministers are attracted to the charism of a religious order (its distinctive ministry, mission, and spirituality), they're often invited by its vowed members to participate as "associates" in their prayer life, community dynamics, and apostolic works. After a period of formation, associates may make degrees of commitment, with varying expectations on those who profess a formal commitment. Associates may also be given a distinctive sign of their membership to wear during prayer and ministry. While associates like the Third Order (tertiaries) have partnered with Franciscans, Dominicans, and Carmelites for centuries, other congregations are only now nurturing new forms of collaboration. Usually, this partnership is mutually transformative for the associates and for those in consecrated life: "The participation of the laity often brings unexpected and rich insights into certain aspects of the charism, leading to a more spiritual interpretation of it and helping to draw from it directions for new activities in the apostolate" (Apostolic Exhortation on Consecrated Life [Vita Consecrata], 55). Partnerships between religious communities and their associates are growing in number, based not on utility or diminished numbers of religious today, but on shared faith and responsibility to our universal baptismal call. May the Holy Spirit guide you as you discern this special invitation to holiness!
